LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

FOREWORD

Medal Awarded
by
New York Hort. Soc.

THE PAST YEAR has not been what we growers call a "perfect season" for bulb growing and harvesting; especially for that most wonderful of all Summer flowering bulbs, "The Gladiolus"—a flower with which the name Joerg has been favorably and prominently associated for the past forty-seven years.

We can, however, confidently state, that though our crop is shorter than usual, the "quality" that we have put aside for our retail trade is ample and of the usual high standard, and we believe better than what is reported from other bulb growing districts, in many of which total failures are bespoken.

Although the short crop would indicate an advance in prices, we have maintained the same price scale as last year on the standard varieties, while we have reduced from 40% to 50%, those of our own introductions featured on the opening pages.

We have received many complimentary letters during the year, from eminent Gladiolus Authorities on the merit of these, and with these "good words" and our own "good judgment," we believe there is no better white Gladiolus than "Joerg's White" on the market today, and no more distinctive Primulinus than "Joerg's Yellow Prim." All our Novelties won distinctions and praise at Gladiolus shows all over the country.

Our Standard Varieties of Gladioli comprise practically all the better varieties in commerce. Long Island has for years been the chief growing center for the best Gladioli in New York market. Its soil and climate are especially suitable to vigorous growth, and the production of those thick, high-crowned bulbs so much wanted by all lovers of Gladioli.

In addition to the large stocks of Gladioli, we have very representative stocks of Dahlias, Pæonies, Delphiniums and Lilies, and many other rare species of flowering bulbs and plants.

Our catalog will bear careful study, and we are sure some of our friends will find many delightful flowers described, not usually found in commerce.

We solicit your business, with the full confidence of being able to serve you in a manner thoroughly pleasing to you and provide you with bulbs that for health and vigor are unsurpassed by any others in the country.

The Greatest of All White Gladioli "JOERG'S WHITE"

Awards from New York Horticultural Society
FIRST PRIZE 1922 FIRST PRIZE 1923 FIRST PRIZE 1924

American Gladiolus Society
A. G. S. TROPHY, NEW YORK 1924

Rated Exhibition 95.5; Commercial 92.4.

The Spike. Ordinary spikes, cut in the field without any special culture or attention, measure on an average of 18 to 20 inches from the base of the lower flower to the tip. The flowers are arranged in such perfect formation, all facing one way, as to lead one to believe they were artificially placed there by man, but nature has done her work far more perfectly than the most expert florist could arrange them. The spike reproduced on this page was cut with 8 others in the field on August 25th, after practically 6 weeks' drought, and no irrigation of any kind had been given the plot. Six perfect flowers with two bursting buds are seen on an 18 inch spike.

The Flower. The lower flower on this spike measured $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches across. It is of the purest glistening snow-white. Five petals in each flower show no other color whatsoever. The lower petal shades to a creamy yellow in the throat, with light crimson veinings.

(Professional Gardeners on some of the leading private estates, who have grown this under skilled cultivation, in rich soil have produced blooms 7 inches across in huge spikes. It has far surpassed their greatest anticipation.)

As a garden plant its noble spikes, erect and vigorous, make a wonderful showing, and as a cut flower it is ideal in vases, the perfect formation of the spike making it an easy and very effective one to arrange. Blooms sold on New York market (when a glut of Gladioli prevailed) brought five times the price of the best of all other commercial varieties. For exhibition purposes, it is a sure winner.

Mr. G. C. Biddle, a noted Canadian Gladiolus fancier, writes:—

"You will recall my ordering your 'Joerg's White.' The one bulb developed two huge spikes, three weeks apart. Out of 25 white varieties I tested, 'Joerg's White' surpassed them all."

"JOERG'S YELLOW PRIM"

(Rated Ex. 93, Com. 94, by Chas. E.
Gersdorff, Washington, D. C.)

A new and distinct Primulinus. A marked improvement on the best of the yellow types. Plant throws up a flower spike 5 feet high, carrying 12 to 18 large pure yellow flowers, with just one faint crimson mid-rib on the lower petal.

The flowers are extremely large, wide-open, without that "hooded" appearance of the old Primulinus types. With the ever-increasing popularity of this highly decorative class, we believe "Yellow Prim" will be accepted as a remarkable meritorious improvement to the class.

Price, Each $1.25

We have seen all the highly rated Yellow "Prims," but nothing to change our opinion that "Joerg's Yellow Prim" excels them all.

More Comment from noted authorities on the merits of "Joerg's White."

HARRISBURG, PA.
September 9th, 1927

Dear Mr. Joerg:

"I have been looking this morning with new enjoyment at a great spike of Joerg's White Gladiolus. It seems just about the ultimate perfection in a white "glad." Its quality of holding its lower flowers until almost the whole spike is open gives it a dignity and impressiveness that I have not seen equalled."

Yours truly,
(Signed) J. Horace McFarland.

Dear Sir:

"Your Joerg's White is a wonderful flower. It was the outstanding variety of several hundred that I had in my garden last year. Mail catalogue also."

Yours very truly,

"JOERG'S WHITE PRIM."

(Rated Ex. 95; Com. 96, by Chas. E. Gersdorff, Washington, D. C.)

An entirely new break in this beautiful and extremely popular class. It is the only pure White Primulinus in existence. A few blooms exhibited at New York Gladiolus Show, August 22-23, 1924, easily carried off highest award and received special mention both from the Gladiolus Association and New York Horticultural Society as a distinct and highly meritorious novelty.

The plant inherits the typical light graceful spike of the Primulinus family, while the flowers, of perfect Primulinus form, are of the purest snow-white. The lower petals are pale yellow down in the throat, with the faintest rose veinings. We predict a great future for this lovely Gladiolus, at present for the Exhibition table and private garden, but later it is bound to become a great commercial flower on account of its earliness and the fact that all Primulinus can be bloomed earlier under glass than the large flowered types.

"GEORGE J. JOERG"

(Rated Ex. 89.9; Com. 89.7, by Chas. E. Gersdorff, Washington D. C.)

We have seen no flower in the pink Gladioli that approaches this sterling novelty in form, size and color, and the New York Horticultural Society are evidently of the same opinion, for it immediately won their hearts and a medal at their Gladiolus Show August 22-23, 1924. It is a brilliant flower, the bud being at first intense carmine-scarlet, toning out as it develops into a beautiful rich salmon-pink. Each petal has a distinctly blanched central rib, the lower petal shows a perfect triangular tongue of creamy yellow, the apex to the front, the base passing abruptly to a rich fiery scarlet zone with a central deep crimson-maroon blotch. It is almost impossible to describe the rich effect of these various shades exhibited in the one flower; the whole forms a pleasing combination of wondrous beauty, with salmon predominating.

Price, Each $2.50

"JOERG'S FAVORITE"

(Rated, Exhibition, 87.1.)

A most uncommonly handsome seedling, particularly for those who adore brilliant art colorings. The ground color is a pale cream, feathered and splashed with bright crimson veins and blotches, a remarkable blend when contrasted with the bright orange throat. The flowers are perfectly formed, slightly crinkled and all face one way in a compact spike. It is a plant of extremely vigorous constitution, the flower spikes practically needing no artificial support.

Price, Each $1.25

PRIMULINUS "PHANTASY"

(Rated Ex. 94, Com. 96, by Chas. E. Gersdorff, Washington, D. C.)

A very attractive color, distinct from all other Primulinus. A clear salmon with coral margin, buds are brilliant orange-scarlet. Two lower petals are pale primrose-yellow, edged pink, with crimson-veined throat. The upper petal folds back, thus forming a very open flower. Extremely early cut-flower variety.

Price, Each 25c; doz. $2.50

ARLENE

A most uncommon color in Gladioli and bound to be pleasing to the ladies. The ground is a uniform pale rose-pink shading in the throat to a pale flesh-pink, with deep crimson base.

The lower petals are marked on the inner two-thirds with a bright, velvety, crimson-scarlet zone, which extends clear across the petal in a semi-circular form and extends way down into the throat. The petals are round and overlap to form a full flower of beautiful outline. This variety carries our highest recommendation as a splendid novelty for exhibition or for the garden.

Price, Each $1.25

Complimentary Comments on "Joerg's Glads."

"JOERG'S WHITE and JOERG'S WHITE PRIM., raised by George J. Joerg, New Hyde Park, N. Y., both won highest honors at the A. G. S. show, New York. Both are wonderful flowers. 'Woolgatherer,' who grew and photographed these flowers, says they are the best in their class; truly white, the large sort having flowers 6 inches across and of great substance."—FLORISTS' EXCHANGE.

"At the New York Show the American Gladiolus Society trophy offered for six white was a snip for George J. Joerg, New Hyde Park, L. I. His new JOERG'S WHITE was in very good shape, but we have seen it much larger. Dry weather has been a drawback to Long Island growers this season."—FLORISTS' EXCHANGE.

LILIUM MYRIOPHYLLUM
"The Regal Lily"

Hardy Lilies

LILIES are becoming more popular every day; people are realizing their splendid qualities for all purposes both in formal beds and in the hardy plant border.

Gladioli make wonderful companions to Lilies, particularly with Speciosum types, Henryii, "The Regal Lily" (Myriophyllum), Tigrinum—in fact, all Lilies that bloom during the Gladiolus season are suitable for planting with a harmonizing shade, that can be selected from the vast color range of the Gladiolus.

Lilies are very desirable for use in the herbaceous or old-fashioned border, and many revel in the shade of the foliage of plants adjacent to them, which encourages the development of the "stem roots" certain varieties develop.

Most Lilies are very easily grown, are perfectly hardy and a few bulbs planted in little nooks throughout the border, in a few years become large colonies, throwing up graceful stems that add untold brilliancy and beauty to the entire garden.

We have been growing Lily bulbs for almost half a century and by careful culture in a loam that is extremely suitable to most native varieties and many foreign types, we have been very successful in producing the finest bulbs. Many leading jobbers and dealers in these bulbs have for years been obliged to fall back on us for their bulbs, when other usually reliable sources reported crop failures. Others have, year in and year out, purchased Joerg's Bulbs.

WALLACEI. Aug.-Sept., 2 ft. Usually produces three to five flowering stems bearing rosy apricot-tinted flowers, thickly spotted. A moist situation suits it. Each 40c; doz. $4.00

Hardy Herbaceous Peonies

Peonies grow best in light rich loam, but any good garden soil will produce good results. They can be safely transplanted in early Spring, also in September and October. The ground should be well prepared, and while well rotted manure is beneficial to them, it should in no case be applied directly to the roots. A good mulching will help them materially. The roots should be set so that the eyes are from two to three inches beneath the surface of the soil. Deep planting is the most frequent cause of blind plants. They never produce the best flowers until the second year after planting and should be left undisturbed for a few years. It is therefore advisable to plant them two and one-half to three feet apart. Peonies are practically immune from diseases and if strong healthy plants are procured, there is little to fear.

Albert Crousse. Large, well-formed flowers of soft shell-pink with faint salmon tints. Stems tall and strong and a vigorous grower. Very fine as a cut flower. Late. Each 75c

Alsace Lorraine. Pointed white petals, suffused with a golden light, make this a charming variety. Tall and vigorous grower. Late. Each $3.50

Asa Gray. Unique flowers of milk-white thickly sprinkled with minute carmine dots, so that the total effect is delicate pink. Midseason. Each $1.00

Avalanche. A very fine ivory-white bloom of convex form, center oftentimes splashed with carmine. Excellent as a cut flower. Late midseason. Each $1.25

Baroness Schroeder. Rose type; late. White with shadings of flesh. This is one of the finest peonies. Its immense flowers are of great substance with high chalice-shaped center. Each $1.25

Couronne d'Or. Large, full flower of pure white with a circle of golden stamens. A very beautiful variety and valuable as a cut flower. Late. Each 50c

Edulis Superba. Deep rose pink with an occasional crimson marking. Guard petals wider than those in the center. Very early. Each 50c

Festiva Maxima. Probably the most widely known of any Peony. Exceptionally large ivory-white flowers of rather feathery appearance, with a fleck of crimson in the center. Midseason. Each 60c

Fragrans. Bomb type, dark pink. Strong, vigorous, free bloomer. Good keeper; very fragrant. Each 50c

Georgiana Shaylor. Exceptionally large, flat flowers of pale rose-pink with an occasional crimson fleck. Dwarf but sturdy habit. Midseason to late. Each $5.00

PAEONIES—Continued

Humei. Very large, compact globular rose type. Cherry pink with silver tips. Cinnamon fragrance. Very late. Each 50c

Livingstone. Late. An extra-good variety, having very large, compact flowers of pale lilac-rose, with silver tips, central petals flecked carmine. Each 75c

Mons. Jules Elie. Immense globular blooms, guard petals recurved, resembling chrysanthemums. Clear medium pink with a silvery tinge. Midseason. Each $1.00

Mons. Krelage. Semi-rose type; late midseason. Deep currant or solferino-red with amaranthine center. A superb Paeony. Each $1.50

FESTIVA MAXIMA

Officinalis Rubra Plena. This is the old-fashioned red, the most brilliant of all red paeonies; early and splendid cut-flower. Each 75c

Therese. Enormous flowers produced in great quantities on long stems. Color a delicate satiny pink. Each $4.00

Japanese Iris

(Iris Kaempferi)

This section of the Iris family embraces wonderful colorings, vivid yet harmonious; all the colors of the rainbow seem to have been gathered together in them in the most fascinating combinations. The great size of the flowers is noteworthy, it being not at all unusual to have blooms 6 to 8 inches across, while there are plenty of instances on record where these marvelous flowers have reached the enormous size of 12 inches across.

A good, well-drained soil will encourage sturdy growth and amazing blooms if they are given plenty of water during the dry season. They come into bloom in July.

(Any orders received too late for Spring delivery will be shipped in the Fall)

GENERAL LIST OF HARDY HERBACEOUS PLANTS

“OLD-FASHIONED FLOWERS”

We do not hesitate to give a word of praise to this humble, yet lovely class of plant.

How cheerful they look, even in the smallest garden or yard. On account of their vast number of varieties, in color, and in time of blooming, we can make selections that will produce flowers from early Spring until late in the Fall. Besides, a great number are highly valuable as cut flowers to embellish our homes. Only a few people understand how simple and easy it is to grow a nice collection, as very little care is needed to get good results.

BUDDLEIA VARIABILIS

(Summer Lilac or Butterfly Bush 3-5 feet)

August to October.

In mild climates this is really a hardy shrub, but as our northern Winters usually kill it to the ground, we are including it among Perennial Plants, and one of the best at that. There is no danger of Winter killing it if it gets the usual protection of litter or leaves that all herbaceous plants need. Each Spring it throws out vigorous growths that develop all Summer to terminate in August and September in tapering spikes of a beautiful lavender-mauve shade. Give it plenty of room, for in itself it is a perfect model of exquisite form and color. If it does not die to the ground in Winter cut it back each Spring.

Strong roots, each 75c

CHRYSANTHEMUMS—Hardy Varieties

Hardy Chrysanthemums are undoubtedly one of the best of border plants, coming in with a grand display of color and cut flowers when other plants are on the wane. In our estimation one cannot plant too many. From September until frost one can literally gather armfuls from a seemingly inexhaustible supply.

Lillian Doty. Abundant small double flowers, of a delightful shade of pink shading to flesh-pink.

White Doty. Pure white double flowers.

Yellow Doty. Rich golden yellow; profuse bloomer.

PRICES—Any of the above, each 30c; doz. $3.00

SPECIAL—One plant of each color (3) for $0.75.

GLORIOUS DELPHINIUMS

(Hardy Larkspur)

Beautiful hardy plants, grown in borders for their stately habit and the handsome spikes of flowers, gorgeous in coloring. Excellent for cutting, and a mass planting is a feature of your garden to be proud of at blooming-time—from June till late Fall.

For their successful cultivation, a rich, well-dug soil is necessary, and when planted in groups along the back portion of a border, they produce a splendid effect.

Joergs Hybrids. Our hybrid Delphiniums are from an extra select English strain of seed, and comprise every known shade in this grand flower.

Price—Each 30c; doz. $3.00;
100 $20.00.

DELPHINIUM, "The Wrexham Strain"

This strain is without doubt the greatest advance yet made toward "Delphinium Perfection," the result of years of scientific hybridizing by that famous Englishman, Mr. Watkin Samuel. The flower spikes are extremely large, holding the huge flowers on the lower part, in almost perfect form until the spike has developed and opened to the tip. The blooms are extremely large, the spike being somewhat pyramidal in shape. (This feature, however, is not always constant in the type.) The colors cover the complete range known to delphiniums, from the faintest mauves and lavenders to the most deep and sombre blues, purples and violets. Some of them have two distinct and charmingly blended shades in the same flower—one of the many characteristic improvements that have won for the "Wrexham Strain" gold medals and other special awards at leading English shows.

Price—Each $2.00; doz. $18.00;
100 $125.00.

The Delphinium or Hardy Larkspur comes in tones from indigo blue to delicate mauve and lavender.

DIELYTRA SPECTABILIS (Bleeding Heart)

A favorite border plant because of the quaintness, and delightful shade of its flowers. It grows into pendulous sprays, from which hang, heart-shaped, rosy pink flowers from April to June. Foliage is also very handsome. Used as a border plant, and often lifted in the Fall and potted, to force in gentle heat under glass for early Spring bloom.

Each 75c; doz. $7.50

DIELYTRA (Bleeding Heart)

Funkia (Day Lily)

Very attractive plants with broad overlapping leaves of various markings; very ornamental, surmounted by dainty lily-like flowers in terminal racemes. Effective in front of shrubbery, under trees, or any shady position where they thrive best.

Subcordata Grandiflora Alba. Very large pure white lily-shaped fragrant flowers in August and September. Each 40c; doz. $4.00

Variegata. Variegated foliage; blue flowers. Beautiful edging plant. Each 25c; doz. $2.50

Hemerocallis (Yellow Day Lily)

The Day Lilies are magnificent hardy plants and are undoubtedly among the finest for ordinary garden culture, as they will grow anywhere in either partial shade or full sun. The flowers are produced in spikes of from six to a dozen blooms, opening in succession, and are very useful when cut for indoor decoration. Good for borders, shrubberies, wild garden or naturalizing in grass.

Thunbergii. Flowers lemon-yellow, very fragrant. One of the most desirable species. Each 40c; doz. $4.00

Platycodon (Chinese Balloon Flower)

Very handsome border plants of the Campanula family, the flowers in bud having the appearance of inflated balloons; they flower from June to September.

Grandiflorum. Large, handsome deep blue flowers. Each 25c; doz. $2.50

Double Mixed. White and blue shades assorted. Each 20c; doz. $2.00

Daphne (Garland Flower)

Handsome dwarf sub-shrubs or herbaceous plants, mostly evergreen, excellently suited for planting near the front of shrubberies, rockeries, etc., with odorous pink flowers and handsome foliage.

Cneorum. Long procumbent branches, and bright, pink, sweetly-scented blossoms; evergreen foliage. Blooms in April and again in September. 1 ft.

Strong field-grown, each $1.00

Euphorbia (Milkwort)

Corollata (Flowering Spurge). Showy and useful native plant growing about 18 in. high, and bearing from June till August umbels of pure white flowers with a small green eye.

Each 25c; doz. $2.50

HEMEROCALLIS (Day Lily)

Spiraea (Astilbe)

We have a fine collection of these hardy hybrid Astilbes that will thrive in any good rich soil if given plenty of water during the growing season. Flowers in showy panicles, freely produced. June, July.

Roots may be lifted in the Autumn and potted up, to provide early Spring flowers for Greenhouse and Conservatory.

America. Charming lilac-rose flowers which do not fade, abundant foliage.

Gladstone. Fine spike of pure white.

Japonica. Fine white for garden or greenhouse.

Philadelphia. Clear lavender-rose; exquisite.

Princess Mary. Deep rose-pink, shaded lilac.

Queen Alexandra. Large fluffy pink spike.

Queen of Holland. Beautiful flesh color.

Rubens. Deep carmine-rose.

PRICE—Any of the above, large field-grown clumps, Each 75c; doz. $7.50

SPIRAEA (Astilbe)

TRITOMA PFITZERI

Tritoma (Flame Flower)

(Red Hot Poker, or Torch Lily)

The TRITOMA is one of the most brilliant hardy flowers.

Pfitzeri (The Everblooming Flame Flower).

The free and continuous blooming qualities of this variety have made it one of the great bedding plants, and when we consider that there are few flowering plants which are suitable for massing under our severe climatic conditions it is little wonder that such an elegant subject should become so popular. Succeeds in any ordinary garden soil, but responds quickly to liberal treatment. Its brilliant orange-scarlet spikes, in late Summer, stand 3 to 4 feet high.

Each 40c; 3 for $1.00

Shrubs and Hedge Plants

HARDY AZALEAS

Azalea Amoena (Japanese Evergreen Azalea). A dwarf shrub with double purplish-red flowers in May; is especially adapted for borders and rock gardens; needs some protection in Northern latitudes. Should be planted in sheltered positions and will abundantly repay for any care given it. Bushy. Each $1.00

Azalea Mollis (Chinese Azalea). Resembles a dwarf rhododendron with good foliage and bears flowers in all shades of red, yellow, and orange. It is perfectly hardy, thriving in sunny positions anywhere, and is excellent in masses. Bushy Plants, Each $1.25

Amoena Superba. A bright scarlet form of the well-known and charming A. amoena, but far surpassing it in brilliancy and general beauty; a profuse bloomer; foliage round in shape and evergreen. Each $1.25

ONE OF EACH OF THE ABOVE FOR $3.00

HYDRANGEA

Hydrangea Paniculata. Tens of thousands of this noble Summer and Autumn-flowering shrub have been sold the past few years, and the demand is now universal. They grow to a height of 8 to 10 feet and are absolutely hardy, grow in any soil and bloom the same year they are set out. They flower abundantly, bearing immense panicles of bloom a foot long, white at first, turning to rose in Autumn, commencing to bloom in August, when very few shrubs are in bloom. An annual shortening of branches is necessary to increase the size of the flowers.

Each 60c; doz. $6.00

HEDGE PLANTS

Berberis Thunbergii (Japan Barberry). Where a dwarf deciduous hedge is wanted, nothing equals this beautiful Barberry. Requires but little pruning to keep in shape. The leaves are small, light green, and towards Fall assume rich, brilliant colors, the fruit or berries becoming scarlet. Absolutely hardy in all parts of the country. Plant 12 to 15 inches apart. Strong, bushy plants, 12" to 18".

Each 35c; doz. $3.50; 100 $28.00

Privet (California or broad oval-leaved). Best of all hedge plants. The Privet is now one of the best-known shrubs, both for hedging and for ornamental planting on the lawn. All of the varieties offered have merit, some for their foliage, some for their berries. They are almost evergreen and of dense habit, and bear shearing to any extent. 18" to 24".

Doz. $1.00; 100 $6.00
(by express, collect)

HYDRANGEA PANICULATA

CLIMBING VINES

Ampelopsis Veitchii. The best of all the self-clinging vines; foliage turns brilliant red in the Fall; perfectly hardy.

Strong Plants, each 25c; doz. $2.50

Extra Strong, each 35c; doz. $3.50

Apios Tuberosa. Splendid hardy climber. Will grow to a height of 8 to 10 feet, vine and foliage resembling a Wistaria; deep purple color; fragrant.

Each 15c; doz. $1.50

Madeira Vine. A fine and rapid climbing vine for porch or trellis.

Each 10c; doz. $1.00

Clematis Paniculata (Japanese Virgins' Bower). This handsome hardy climber is one of the choicest and most satisfactory climbing flowering plants. Of strong, rapid growth, with small, dense, cheerful green foliage, and pure white, deliciously fragrant flowers, which appear in the greatest profusion in August and September, followed by silvery feathery seed pods, which make an attractive appearance until mid-Winter.

Each 35c; doz. $3.50

AMPELOPSIS VEITCHII

WISTARIA CHINENSIS

Wistaria Chinensis (Wistaria). Woody vines with tightly clinging habit, for pergolas, arbors, trellises, etc., especially ornamental in early Summer when they are resplendent with their large, drooping clusters of fragrant lilac blossoms.

Strong 2-year plants, each 75c

Miscellaneous Bulbs

AMARYLLIS Formosissima. A most beautiful house or conservatory plant, having large lily-like flowers, of bright red, crimson, pink and flesh shades, with deeper veins. Very easily grown.

Each $1.00; doz. $10.00

HYACINTHUS (Galtonia) Candicans. A noble plant bearing in late Summer massive spikes of from 40 to 50 snow-white, bell-shaped flowers.

Each 10c; doz. $1.00

CALLA, Mrs. Roosevelt. Remarkable for its spotted foliage; flowers are white, tinged amber.

Each 35c; doz. $3.50

Golden Roosevelt. (New 1925.) A very uncommon variety, of a deeper shade of gold than the preceding.

Each $1.00

TUBEROSE "The Pearl." This flower is fairly popular on account of its pure white color and delightful fragrance. Our stock is very healthy and true.

Each 10c; doz. $1.00

TIGRIDIA Pavonia (Tiger or Shell Flower).

A semi-hardy bulb requiring same treatment as Gladioli. Grows about 18 in. to 2 ft. high, bearing wide open 3-lobed flowers of bright red, spotted yellow and purple.

Each 30c; doz. $3.00

Selected Hybrids. These hybrids have been produced by crossing the native species, and include some really lovely and novel shades, retaining the dainty forms of the type. These are highly recommended.

Each 25c; doz. $2.50

ZEPHYRANTHES ROSEA (Zephyr Flower or Fairy Lilies). Beautiful dwarf, bulbous plant, very effective for massing in the border, flowering with great profusion of pink flowers during the Summer. They are also suitable for pot culture.

Each 20c; doz. $2.00

DAHLIAS

A Carefully Chosen List of Extra Select Varieties

THE DAHLIA is an old garden favorite, because of its wonderful size and brilliancy in the garden, and its extreme beauty and decorative value when cut for use in the home.

Modern Dahlias introduced within the past few years are very difficult to describe, in fact one has to see them to realize the perfection of form, the wonderful colors, and the size to which they can be grown.

We have devoted much of our time to the growing of Dahlias, and offer in the following list an up-to-date collection of some of the best in cultivation.

The letters following each name denote the class to which the variety belongs:

(C.)=Cactus. (Dec.)=Decorative.
(H.C.)=Hybrid Cactus. (P.)=Peony Type.
(Pom.)=Pompon. (S.)=Show.

Brief Notes on Growing Gladioli

Gladioli are probably the most easily grown of all Summer Bulbs, and with ordinary care will give a succession of flowers from July until October. They thrive in almost any soil and location, but prefer a sandy loam in full sunlight. Bulbs may be planted in solid beds of harmonizing shades, in groups among hardy plants, or in single or double rows by the sides of Paths or Drives.

Plant from 6" to 8" apart and from 4" to 6" deep. Make the first planting in April, and continue every two weeks to put in some more, up to June 15th. This ensures a succession of bloom from July until frost.

Good cultivation will repay in large and prolific blooms. Keep the surface of the soil broken; it helps the growing of the flower spike, and keeps the weeds in check. Water frequently during the dry Summer months; do not use any stable manure. Lime, dug into the ground before planting, and bone meal worked into the top soil, after the plants are 8"-10" high, are the only fertilizers needed. When cutting Gladioli, leave at least 4 to 6 leaves on the stem; this is essential to the development of the new bulb forming under ground.

Complimentary Comments on "Joerg's Gladiolus"

An old friend of mine attended the N. Y. Glad. show, and told me the best variety in the show was one exhibited by you called "Joerg's White." Would very much like to have your catalog.

H. I. B., Dowagiac, Mich.

Saw your exhibit at recent N. Y. show and liked "Joerg's White" very much. Sept. 5, 1924.
S. J. S., New York City.

On my visit to the N. Y. Glad. show I took due note of your seedling No. 10, "George J. Joerg." Kindly advise me of the price; am also partial to your "Joerg's White." Aug. 28, 1924.
E. B. L., Westfield, N. J.

I saw your wonderful Glad. "Joerg's White" at the big New York show. I congratulate you upon producing such a wonderful flower. Aug. 28, 1924.
C. E. H., Danbury, Conn.

I attended the Glad. show in New York and was taken by your "Joerg's White." Its size and pure color was of course apparent. Aug. 26, 1924.
E. W. G., Trenton, N. J.

I was told that you were at the show last week. I am very sorry not to have seen you, but I saw a very beautiful flower, "Joerg's White." I shall be glad to know if you are putting it on the market. Aug. 26, 1924.
E. M. S., Madison, N. J.

I was very much impressed with your exhibit at the Glad. show. I should be pleased to have your catalog. Aug. 24, 1924.
